DR. JOHN BRADY

DOCTOR BRADY, AT 75, DEFIES FATHER TIME

Athletic, Despite Years, He Shows That "Man Is as Old as He Feels." There is one man in this city who is a sincere believer in the assertion that "we are only as old as we feel." He is Dr. John Brady, who retired from medical practice some time ago.

Father Time has been cheated badly in his case, for although 75 years old, Doctor Brady doesn't feel any more than 30. In fact, he has taken another lease on life, and obtained it through athletics. The doctor can do front and back "flip-flaps" in regular pinwheel fashion, like a circus acrobat. In the water he's a duck and can dive a la Kellermann at any angle you choose. In this connection, he can do the "jack-knife," the "twist" or a back dive without even pausing to think about it.

The physician's victory over himself is especially commendable when one considers that he was regarded as a weakling when he was 60 years old. On realizing that he was not up to the standard physically, the Doctor started to exercise on the quiet. Later he joined the Germantown Branch of the Y. M. C. A., and under the care of A. B. Dunn, physical director, he soon began to get into regular condition.

He followed the rules laid down rigidly, and in a comparatively short time found himself getting stronger. Now he takes long hikes before breakfast, when younger men are still in bed, and by way of diversion makes short sketches of the places he visits afoot. The arctic physician claims that legs were made before wheels and he proposes to get the full benefit of his.

Everybody who follows sports in Germantown knows the athlete who has passed three scores and ten. He can be seen almost any day at the Germantown "Y" doing a round of volley ball or traveling on the rings.

Let's he has taken a fancy to tennis and is learning the fine points of the game under the instruction of the director. "Lots of people work for money," said the Doctor today at his home, 2009 North 13th street, "and yet they won't work for their health."

The energetic athlete hopes to live at least 30 more years. Other well-probated today include those of John R. Jackson, who left $17,000; John G. Friedrich, $900. Personal property of George R. Burlingame has been appraised at $23,615.88.

Leaves $20,000 in Private Bequests. Evelyn G. Gardner, late of 2123 Olney avenue, left an estate of $20,000 in private bequests. Her will was admitted to probate today.

MEET TO FRAME PROHIBITION AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Delegates Will Present Resolution to Congress. WASHINGTON, July 10.—The campaign to make the capital of the country "dry" was given impetus today when 300 advocates of nation-wide prohibition, representing the Anti-Saloon League of America, the Anti-Saloon League of the District, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Catholic Prohibition League and many others, met here.

They are endeavoring to frame a prohibition amendment, which, in the form of a resolution, will be presented to Congress this fall, after which they believe the chances are strong that it will go before the States for adoption. It was planned to have the visiting workers participate in a demonstration, including a visit to the White House, but officials a few days ago decided this was not the time for such an action and determined to devote the prohibitionists' visit to the consideration of an amendment.

Czechs Flee Bohemia ZURICH, Switzerland, July 10.—Fragile authorities have suspended two Czech newspapers, the Kolofabeky and the Obuvnicki Listy, organs of the Czech Constitutional party and the Czech shoe manufacturers. Many Czech residents of Bohemia have recently fled into Switzerland. They say political leaders are being daily arrested, that the country is full of spies and that trial by jury has been suspended.
